- By any person who does not hold a valid drivers licence.
- By anyone under the influence of alcohol or drugs, impaired by medication, or too fatigued to operate the snowmobile safely.

Snowmobile Operation and Safety

All rental snowmobiles use a right-hand, thumb-activated throttle. Engine braking occurs when the throttle is released. A separate brake lever, operated with the left hand, is used to slow the snowmobile. In the event you are thrown off of your machine, the tethered key will release and cease power to the machine . You will be briefed on the full operation of the machine during check-in.

Operating a snowmobile in alpine terrain requires coordinated body-weight shifting and handlebar movements. Riders should be physically capable of operating a snowmobile in alpine terrain and responding to the physical demands of riding.

Avalanche & Rider Safety

Weather, snow, and avalanche conditions can change throughout the day.
Every rider must carry a backpack, avalanche transceiver (beacon), probe, and shovel.
Required safety equipment may be rented from us, subject to availability and applicable daily rental fees.
We recommend arranging safety equipment in advance to ensure availability.

We strongly recommend hiring a guide if you are new to snowmobiling or unfamiliar with the area. We recommend Great Canadian Tours- the only licensed tenured guiding organization in Revelstoke. Their wealth of knowledge and education will ensure you have the best experience in the mountains.
Conditions can change quickly, it is important to understand the risks of the back country, take note of the changes and forecasts and act accordingly.
 Riders without the proper gear will forfeit their right to a rental and no refunds will be given.*

Clothing

Average winter temperatures range from -10°c to 0°c. Although conditions can vary throughout the day.

You are responsible to bring the following:
Winter coat/snow pants (preferably uninsulated to allow for layering)
Insulated winter gloves (no mitts-fingered gloves only. An extra pair is recommended)
Winter boots suitable for snowmobiling. Ski boots are not permitted
Balaclava/neck warmer
Base layers
Warm socks

A helmet is provided in your rental if you do not have your own.
Selected clothing and accessories are available for purchase in our shop.

Weather

We do not recommend relying solely on The Weather Network for alpine conditions in the Revelstoke area. As it takes readings from the airport forecasts for valley locations may not accurately reflect conditions at higher levels. Weather conditions can vary significantly with elevation and alpine conditions may differ substantially from those at lower elevations.

We recommend checking the Government of Canada for general area forecasts, along with the Revelstoke Snowmobile Club and Revelstoke Mountain Resort webcams for a better look at current conditions.

Our staff can share their observations of current snow and riding conditions; however, conditions may change throughout the day.

- Avalanche conditions can be found on the Avalanche Canada website.
- Driving conditions can be found on the DriveBC website.
